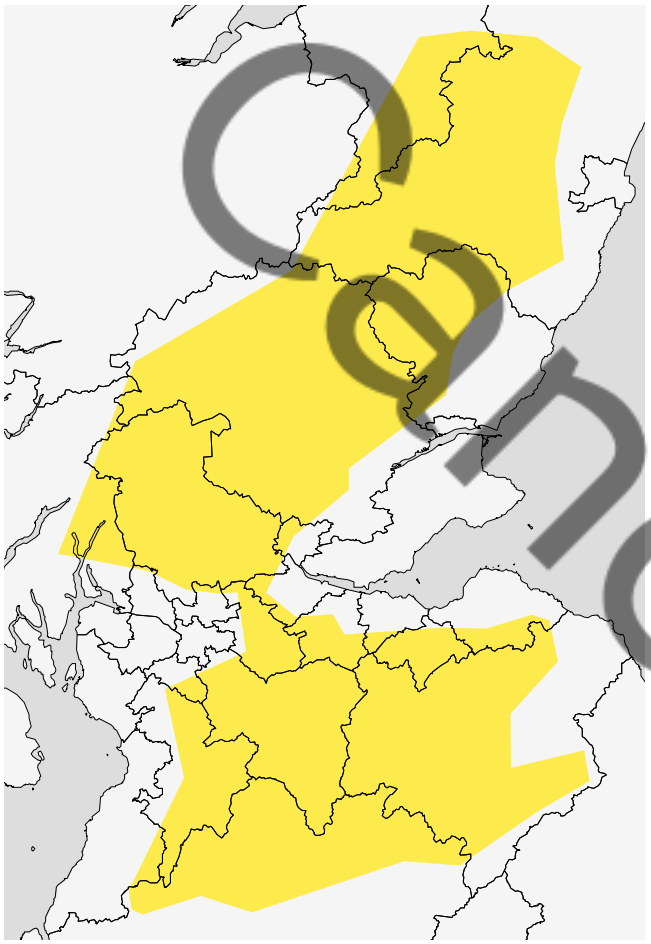
Yellow warning
Snow

Between
12:00 Thu 8 Feb 2024 and
15:00 Fri 9 Feb 2024



Cancelled

Some travel disruption from snow on Thursday night into Friday.

What to expect

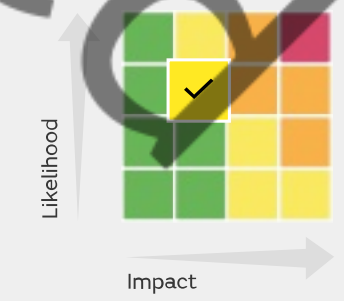
- Some roads and railways likely to be affected with longer journey times by road, bus and train services

Further details

Outbreaks of sleet and snow will continue overnight into Friday. Accumulations will vary from place to place and will mainly be across high ground (above about 200 metres) - here, some areas are expected to see 1-3 cm of snow through this period but perhaps as much as 8-10 cm in a few locations, mainly above 300 metres. On low ground, rain is more likely.

What should I do?

Snowy, wintry weather can cause delays and make driving conditions dangerous. Keep yourself and others safe by planning your route, giving yourself extra time for your journey.



✓ Medium likelihood of low impacts

Yellow warning
Snow

Between
12:00 Thu 8 Feb 2024 and
15:00 Fri 9 Feb 2024

Further Details (continued)

Check for road closures or delays to public transport and amend plans if necessary.

If driving, make sure you have some essentials in your car in the event of any delays (e.g., warm clothing, food, water, a blanket, a torch, ice scraper/de-icer, a warning triangle, high visibility vest and an in-car phone charger).

Give yourself the best chance of avoiding delays by checking road conditions if driving, or bus and train timetables, amending your travel plans if necessary.

Be prepared for weather warnings to change: when a weather warning is issued, the Met Office recommends staying up to date with the weather forecast in your area.

Reason for cancellation

The potential for impacts from snow over southern Scotland is now reduced, with areas further north covered by the medium impact warning, recently updated.
